PUBLIC MEETING TOMORROW

Officers and delegates to the State Convention of the Junior Order United American Mechanics began arriving in Clearfield this morning for the State Council which will be in session here tomorrow.

The first Council of the Junior Order of United Mechanics was organized in Philadelphia, Pa., May 17, 1853, in the old Concord Schoolhouse. Its inception was for the purpose of protecting American mechanics from foreign immigration, and none but operative American mechanics were, at that time, admitted to membership.

the Order, but the few Councils that were able to re-organize September 30, 1869, and organized the National Council of the Junior Order United American Mechanics with a broader and wider purpose.

From that date the Order took on new life and quickly spread from state to state. The Order is now operating in 40 states, with over 2,100

Councils and a total membership of over 225,000 representing Americans in all walks of life.

A great deal has been accomplished by the Order, through national and state legislation, to further the objects and principles of the J. O. U. A. M.
Among the officers who have arrived are State Treasurer Chas. Kaufmann of Philadelphia and A. P. S.
State Councilor S. G. Scott of Tough-kenamon Pa. We are glad to present likenesses of these affable gentlemen to our readers.

State Council Secretary Chas. H.
Hall of Philadelphia was a pleasant visitor to The Progress office this morning and reports that there will be a public meeting in the Hotel Dunelm Hall Room tomorrow morning at 9:30 to which the public is cordially invited.

Miss Helen Jackson left today for Indiana to attend the Normal there.

NEW FEATURE AT
THIS YEAR

The Progress Will Maintain Free
Information and News Bureau
In Main Exhibition Hall

THIS SERVICE IS FOR YOU

When you come to the County Fair next week, will it not be nice to know that if you are wanted at home real quickly, there is a way in which those you leave at home in charge of your farm or business can quickly get in touch with you? All of this and more, too, is guaranteed by the establishment of a free Information Bureau and News Service in the Main Exhibition building of the County Fair. Should those at home need you to deliver an important message, all they have to do is call the Progress Information Bureau at the fair grounds on the H. & C. telephone and every effort will be made to locate the person wanted. Should sickness or accident visit your family or your stock at home the Progress Bureau at the Fair can be used in like manner.
All we ask is that it be not used for anything except the most important things. The service is installed to give service to those who need it and will meet a long felt need for such a service.

In addition to the service aforementioned there will be news bulletins posted regularly throughout the day. All the great national and international happenings of the day will be bulletined as they occur and visitors to the Fair will be kept informed on the happenings of the outside world through the medium of United Press report, relayed from The Progress office.

The Bureau will be in charge of Rev. John P. McCurdy who is so well known throughout the county that he needs no introduction in these columns. Mr. McCurdy will give every assistance to visitors to the Fair in search of information on various subjects. He will be glad to meet you there and tell you where to find the things in which you are most interested.

Joy Riders Are In

Commander Attorney Forsyth's Auto And Leave It Damaged At Morrisdale

A bunch of young men succeeded in getting themselves into a peck of trouble Saturday night. They telephoned to the Auto Supply garage and represented themselves to be John C.
Forsyth, stated that they would send for Mr. Forsyth's car. According to the telephone message a young man appeared in a few minutes and said he had been sent by Mr. Forsyth for the car. The man in charge allowed the car to go out and thought nothing more of it until Sunday morning when Mr. Forsyth appeared and asked for his car. He was apprised of the situation and immediately instituted a search for the car and the joy riders.
No trace of the machine was secured until yesterday afternoon when the Orcutt & Buchanan garage received a telephone message to come to Morrisdale Mines and tow a damaged automobile to Clearfield. When the machine was towed in it was found to be the missing Forsyth car on which the gears had been stripped and it

The Auto Supply people and Mr.
Forsyth are hot on the trail of the boys who got away with the machine and threaten to prosecute them to the full extent of the law when they are rounded up.

HOME FROM THE HOSPITAL

Deputy Sheriff John S. Chaplin, who was operated upon for appendicitis a couple of weeks ago was able to get home from the hospital yesterday and is improving quite satisfactorily.

Mr. Chaplin is one of the aspirants for the Democratic nomination for sheriff and his sick spell seriously interfered with his campaign, although his friends have been carrying on his work for him, while he was laid up.

Miss Mary Shade, Urban Lela,
M. and Mrs. David Ike and Miss Gertrude Woerner motored to Altoona yesterday.

Welcome Junior Mechanics

The Progress takes this opportunity to welcome you to our little city of which it is justly proud. Our Chief Burgess will welcome you tomorrow morning in the name of the municipality and the keys will be turned over to you. In order that you might not
go away from here feeling that we are inhospitable simply be-
manufactured products and adding to the wealth of the nation, we have asked several of our manufacturers whether they would welcome you to their plants. With one accord they answered a hearty "certainly" and if you so desire you will be welcome at the following industrial plants and no doubt any others you care to visit.

Newly Installed Mirrors

Shop Lifter Detected Through Unique
Device at Five and Ten Cent Store

Local merchants have not been bothered so much by shoplifters for the past two months or since The Progress devoted some time and space to a publicity campaign against these light-fingered gentry. Occasionally some easily-tempted fellow will surreptitiously abstract a small article or two from the convenient and heavily loaded counters of the five and ten cent store.

Saturday evening's when the store is jammed, is generally the time selected by the shoplifter and accordingly the store detective brushes up his glasses and pays a little more attention than is usually the case.
Manager Ward has rigged up a system of concealed mirrors which work somewhat on the periscope idea and under this new plan it is one hundred per cent easier for the sleuth to catch the thief in the act.

Saturday evening everything was quiet along the shop lifting line until just before closing time, when the mirrors disclosed to the watchful eye of Lookout Johnson, the hand of a West Side man dexterously slipping a few odds and ends into his pocket.
The fellow was apprehended before he could get away and was taken back to the office and told to wait there until the store was closed when his case would be attended to. Johnson then started to the front of the store to close up. He fixed the catch on the doors on the Mirkin side of the store and walking through locked the doors behind him. Off then walked up street to the other entrance and as he reached there the doors were burst open and his shop lifted washed into his arms in an attempt to escape.

Johnson grappled with his man and hustled him over against the window and they tussled into the hall way between the store and the drug store where they went to the floor in a clinch. A crowd gathered and the police were called. They promptly responded and gathering up both parties started for the lockup. Johnson succeeded in acquainting Chief McHenry with the situation before he got him in the jug and was let go.
The shoplifter was locked up and becoming very penitent offered to pay for what he had taken and never do it again, if allowed to go home. His offer was accepted by Manager Ward and he was allowed to go a sadder but much wiser young man.

It is hard to figure out what punishment should be accorded a grown man who would steal from a five and ten cent store, but Manager Ward is figuring out a criminal code to cover these speculations now that his new

That an automobile is dangerous even though it is going away from you can be proven by the testimony of a lady who had a narrow escape from serious injury while walking
and Cherry. Captain W. P. Kelly, with his family, had just embarked in a brand new automobile, for their home in Pittsburgh. While turning from Third into Cherry street the tire on one of the rear wheels blew out
and hurled the rim backward through the air with terrific force, the missile just grazing the face of a lady passing along the street. It was a lucky escape from a serious and perhaps a fatal accident.

Bring Your Curios
To The County Fair

Bring your curios to the County Fair. What is interesting to you will be interesting to thousands of other people. Old relics have an interesting connection with the past.
They bring back old memories and revive old scenes. Clearfield county is alive with these things. Many an old attic is a veritable storehouse of most interesting articles. Bring these things to the County Fair on the first day. There will be a man on the job to receive them, tag them and see that they are taken care of until the last day of the fair. As we have said before in these columns, the Fair will be a success because the people of Clearfield county will make it a success. Those who have the relics of last year will return them this year and besides there are hundreds of articles of interest that have never been put on exhibition. Bring them into the fair. Rev. John McCurdy will be in charge of the historical and curiosity exhibit at the Fair. Look

AUTO STORY

Chapter No. 3 in that Knox township automobile case developed Saturday afternoon when R. W. Rea filed his answer following the rule of court directing that the judgment in his favor against Mrs. Russell Zimmerman be opened.

In his answer Rea claims he made out the not to accommodate Mrs. Zimmerman, who is his sister instead of his niece; that he had no intention or desire to defraud the Lee Garage Co.,
and did not know them in the matter;
that he never gave value for the note and asked that same be stricken from the record. This will be done and the incident as to the note closed, thus the note given for the automobile will be come a lien against Mrs. Zimmerman's property and will be paid.

BY AN AUTOMOBILE;
INSTANTLY KILLED

Harvey Vankemeyer, aged twelve years, of Osceola Mills, was almost instantly killed yesterday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Woodsie, of that town. The accident, according to witnesses, was entirely unavoidable. The lad was standing at the rear of a machine that had stopped along the highway.
Just as the Woodsie car came along
the boy darted out from behind the other machine and was struck fairly.
He was knocked down, and the machine ran over his chest, crushing it.
The doctor stopped his car as soon as possible and rendered all aid possible, but the boy only lived a few minutes.
Coroner Pollum was notified of the accident and took the proper steps;
have a thorough investigation made.

counter with a hunky automobile Sat-

ON A VIST

Given Great Send-off by Firemen

ELK ARE FIREMEN PATRIOTIC

The Elk Hose company's home on Daisy street was the scene of a memorable occasion Saturday night last and one that will long be remembered and recounted with pride by the members of this company and the citizens of the Fourth ward. Since war was declared against Germany and Uncle Sam made his call for men no less than thirteen members of the Elk Hose company have responded and volunteered their services in defense of their flag and country. These young men are:

Worrell Jones, regular army.
Robert McClellan, regular army.
Harvey Shearer, regular army.
Foster Kerr, regular army.
Charles Houser, regular army.
Wilbur Kerr, Boal Machine Gun Co.
Harry Flaharty, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Hayes Wilson, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Bruce Jacobs, Boal Machine Gun Co.
Willard Barratt, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Milton Rauch, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Lloyd Wisner, Boal Machine Gun
Co.

The members of the Machine Gun company which will leave for the training camp on Tuesday had been home on a 'two-day furlough' before embarking for Albiga, Ga., and the members of the hose company decided to give the boys a fitting final send-off just before they embarked by automobile for Boalsburg.

On account of some "pressing matters" incident to personal final farewells, the boys had on hand, the hour for the finale was fixed late enough to ensure everybody's attendance.

The handsome quarters of the company were profusely decorated and long before the hour set for the feed which preceded the program, several hundred friends of the boys were on hand waiting to say the final au revoir.

At 12 o'clock the cook announced everything in readiness and the assemblage sat down to an appetizing banquet. Rev. B. J. Hummel of the U. B. church, who had a son among
honor at the head of the table, and asked the Divine blessing.

At the conclusion of Rev. Hummel's eloquent sentences the command was given to "fall to" and the next hour was most pleasantly spent disposing of the good things provided by the quarter-master's department and the mess sergeant. When coffee and cigars were reached Department Chief Connelly arose and presented each soldier boy present with a small silk flag on behalf of the Elk Hose company, with the request that the boys treasure same as a memento of the occasion.

The Machine Gun company sextette,
a musical organization of real merit, led by Corporal Hayes Wilson then favored the assemblage with a number of camp songs which elicited
show the temper of the crowd, regardless of its make up, it is only necessary to add that the selection which aroused the greatest enthusiasm was the "History of the Machine Gun Company," a parody on
"The Old Gray Mare," the last line of the chorus of which wound up "We'll Raise Hell in Germany."

The boys went through their repertoire from start to finish and then James Bator, whose two sons are in the lineup sang, "The Soldier's Farewell," with the soldier boys helping in the chorus. The beautiful song was exceptionally well rendered. A collection for the mess fund was then lifted and resulted in a handsome sum being raised which was turned over to Corporal Wilson who returned the thanks of the boys in a neat little speech.

The exercises closed with the singing of America by the assemblage, after which fifteen minutes were spent in farewell. At the end of this period the boys were loaded on the fire truck with their mothers, sisters and

Chemists' Convention
To Discuss War Needs

This Profession Will Have Large Part
in Winning the War

Boston, Mass., Sept. 10.—Advanced theories and formulas for the preservation of by-products and for the making of munitions as well as latest developments in medicinal remedies, disinfectants, dyes and dyestuffs are to be discussed by the American Chemical Society at its fifty-fifth annual convention which began in this city today.

Although many chemists of the United States are busily engaged with war orders, it is expected that at least a thousand members of the society will participate in the convention proceedings. It is the first large gathering of chemical engineers and experts held since the beginning of the war and since the present great development of the chemical business in the United States.

Additional interest is attached to the convention by the fact that the country must depend for much of its success in the war upon chemicals and the speakers and the members will represent 30,000 chemical engineers in the country, who have mobilized for Government service, and who will try to find means to beat the enemy.

The war has put the chemical industry in the United States on its
chemical manufacture here began when German importations ceased.
Not only were stocks quickly depleted, but the chemical manufacturers in the United States were not equipped either with machinery or with practical workmen, nor even many of the raw goods, to begin manufacture for many months.

The convention marks a period of
enormous advance in the industry whose production, including dyes, is still far behind the demand. One problem needs a solution—the fact that Germany, at the time of the declaration of war, was exporting as many as 40,000 colors, shades, tints, etc., whereas it was necessary for the American manufacturers to limit their products to fewer than 200.

The convention is expected to devise some attention to the advanced processes in chemistry which have made the asphyxiating gases, and which applied liquid fire to the onslaughts of armies. However, the most of the addresses, papers and discussions will deal with the advance of commercial chemistry. In this branch of the business there are many important problems that are still in the solving period, and not only is the interest of the chemists of the country centered upon discussions which will be held during the three days' sessions, but there are many who are awaiting the results of the meeting for the furtherance of their business and manufacture.

HOSPITAL BRIDGE

The Hospital Bridge Whist Club
will meet with Mrs. John W. Wrigley Thursday evening, Sept. 13th, at seven thirty. A large attendance is desired.
Come and bring your husband.
S-10-4t.

The A. H. Woodward Bible Class of
M. E. Sunday School will hold a picnic lunch at Driving Park, Thurs., Sept.
13th. Members, and families invited.

Marching behind the trip down Daisy street was begun.

When the borough line was reached a stop was made and following the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" the boys hustled into their automobiles and were away for Boals-burg and the great adventure which may lead them to the gory battlefields of France. No finer, better bunch of young men will go out from any community in this broad land of ours, and if the fortunes of war make it possible for them to get to Germany our money is down on them doing just what the concluding line in the chorus of their camp song says they will do, and there will be enough of it to last old Kaiser Bill the rest of his life on earth, and when he gets to where he is heading for hereafter he will find it wasn't far from the real thing at that.

In addition to the Elk Hose company members in the Machine Gun company, there were present also Daniel Hummel, of the Fourth ward
and Dorsey Polanzhorn, of Woodland, also of the Machine Gun company,
and Worrell Jones and Victor Jones, who are home from Fort Slocum on a furlough.

It was an occasion long to be remembered and the Elk Hose company has ever reason to feel proud of the fact that fifteen per cent of her
Uncle Sam's call.

BREAKNOT LIKELY
BETWEEN U. S.
AND SWEDEN

Believe United States Safe
Unless Sweden's Explanation
Denotes Guilty Knowledge

MAY HAVE NOTIFIED U-BOATS

By Carl D. Groat
Washington, Sept. 10.—The United States government does not intend to break relations with Sweden now over the "spurious versant" secret message from the minister at Buenos Ayres to Stockholm.

Sweden's explanation may alter America's position.
It was officially declared today that the United States does not feel bound to be the injured person and that that it cannot well break with Sweden. The State Department said that it will probably be necessary for the United States to prove that Sweden had full knowledge of the transmitting of the messages. It was stated that it "was possible" for Sweden to be the medium through which Germany learned of the sailing of transports carrying the first German troops which were attacked by man U-boats. There is no doubt, how-

The State Department expects sort of explanation from Sweden in the meantime all public affairs
are guarded. The United States government it is known has been the Sweden foreign office cognizant of the affair. The people however are not to be was declared therefore house cleaning in Sweden is although no official suggestion made.

Argentina and Great Britain held to be the greatest sufferers in the plot. The plot was hatched in between the two diplomats. Britain was injured by the neutral violation of her cables. The State Department did not state whether the messages were sent in German or Swedish code. It is believed however that Count Luxburg sent the messages in German code. This code is known to the State Department inasmuch as Count Bernstorff, while in Washington, had to give a translation of the code to the United States government. The United States will not retaliate against Sweden by cutting off her supplies. Negotiations with

TRY THE KERENSKY REMEDY

It is said that Kerensky, who has sadly admitted that he may not live to see the accomplishment of his desires, has submitted some time since, to an operation for the removal of a supposedly necessary organ; and that he now exists with only one kidney. In view of the energy and wisdom which he displays we are prompted to wonder whether it might not be a good thing to put some of our Cabinet officers under the knife similarly.

KEEP AT IT

We are informed by the President of the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce that the Committee in charge of the demonstration Friday evening in honor of departing soldiers intends to see that every contingent of conscripted men leaving here are accorded the same treatment. It is indeed a laudable undertaking and while there will be a great deal of work and inconvenience for those on whom the work will fall it is no more than right that every man leaving here from now on shall go with the best wishes and heartiest cheers of our populace. Next time there is a much larger pilgrimage to the camps. The regiments now call for the next entrainment to be forty per cent of our total quota or about eighty-six men. Let get ready to give these fellows the greatest demonstration ever witnessed in Clearfield.

GERARD'S REVELATIONS

Ambassador Gerard's recital of his experiences in Mexico continues to expose the inexplicable folly of the Democratic administration in the face of the plainest intimations of Germany's purpose to harass the United States. In one of his most recent chapters, Mr. Gerard tells how, in the early stages of the Mexican imbroglio, he was informed by "a man high in the German Foreign Office" that the German government had proposed to England that the two powers should intervene by force in Mexico, to the destruction of the Monroe Doctrine; this to be followed by the forceful colonization of Central and South America by European nations.

As a diligent representative of his country at a foreign post, Mr. Gerard necessarily reported this incident to the State Department—but it is only now, after three or four years, that the people of the United States are made acquainted with the fact. The administration took no notice of the threat which this proposal carried against a cherished article of our national faith; and the President continued to submit to repeated insult from all factions in Mexico. No effort was made to put ourselves in a position of military preparedness, either to enforce our grievances against the Mexicans or to protect ourselves against the graver dangers of a European movement to overthrow our supremacy in this continent. We were "kept out of war" until, when war came, as was inevitable, we found ourselves as unready as we were unrealizing.

The much vaunted harmony among Democrats is becoming the laughing stock of the voters of Clearfield county today. The opposing candidates for the office of District Attorney are indulging in personalities, giving the lie to each other and both are busy as nailers attempting to discredit the utterances of each other. And it has a whole week to go yet! It will be some pretty mess before next Wednesday evening rolls around and the split in the Democratic party will look like the Grand Canon of Colorado. The present District Attorney should have known better than to leave his post of duty here, knowing as he did, what stories the opposition would circulate. It was poor politics to go and worse to return.

DUMDUMS

Goldline may have an invigorating effect but we do not see how it can surpass a Cappy Ricks story from the pen of Peter B. Kyne and printed in the Saturday Evening Post. Laugh and grow fat.

Yes, there is a good man out for Sheriff. Capable, honest and one who would grace the office. Yes, certainly he is on the Republican ticket. You know who he is. If you don't know, size them all up and find out which it is.

As though their suffering was not enough, some of our news writers seem to think that their mission is to ethically remind mothers and wives of the vacant chair and military funerals. Have they no consideration for sensitive feelings or do they belong to that class which seeks to cheer the invalid by enlarging on his or her infirmity accompanied by the shedding of hypocritical tears?

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Pt. Sam Houston
San Antonio Texas
Dear Mother and Father:

I just received part of my mail last night about 9 o'clock. We just came back from a town about two hundred and 10 miles from here. We were called out of bed Friday morning at 15 minutes after 3 and told to get our heavy packs made up as soon as we could. We all got up growling because we had to get up early. When we were ready, to our surprise they gave each of us 3 belts full of ammunition, which was two hundred and fifty rounds apiece.

We took our rifles and put on our packs and they took us across to the railroad and packed the whole battalion of about 600 men on one train. There was a big engine and 15 cars without the baggage car and engine. We had the right of way and went straight through in a couple of hours.

As soon as we reached there we threw our packs off and loaded our rifles and started out of town. We soon came to the 24th infantry camp. They are all negroes. We were lined up along the road running along the camp and told not to shoot until told but when given the order, to shoot every negro we saw and shoot right through the tent and chase them out.

The commander of the southern department, Waltz, went into camp and talked to them while, then the negroes came back into the tents and took all their rifles and ammunition out and put them in a pile and stood aside until we went in and took them away.

They had gone into the town and shot it up. There were about 20 white people killed and 22 wounded that night when we got called.

There were about 50 negroes killed and a number wounded and some ran away. We rounded up half of the battalion and took them down to Columbus, New Mexico where they will be taken care of.

They had ammunition and rifles hid all around. They had dug ditches to keep the rain out and had them packed in there, about a car load of them. All the rifles were loaded fresh and the belts were full. There was 6 or 7 hundred of those colored people all together. They looked surprised when we stepped in on them.

We use Springfield rifles, the best kind. They have slings on. A man can shoot wherever he aims when he uses a sling.

When we returned last night the man in charge of quarters said he had forwarded our mail to Houston and now it will have to be returned.

Will say good by.

Lesson No. 25

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and directions. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States army to which this course is merely introductory.

LESSON 25.
DISCIPLINE AND RESPECT FOR THE COLORS

"All persons in the military service are required to obey strictly and to execute promptly the lawful orders of their superiors." (Army Regulations, par. 1.)

Discipline is not merely an obligation imposed upon you; it is a protection to you. Your superiors, from the commanding general down, are just as much bound to respect the regulations of the Army as you are; this includes respect for the rights of every soldier.

Military authority will be exercised with firmness, kindness, and justice. While maintaining discipline and the thorough and prompt performance of military duty, all officers, in dealing with enlisted men, will bear in mind the absolute necessity of so treating them as to preserve their self-respect. Officers will keep in as close touch as possible with the men under their command and will strive to build up such relations of confidence and sympathy as will insure the free approach of their men to them for counsel and assistance. This relationship may be gained and maintained without relaxation of the bonds of discipline and with great benefit to the service as a whole." (Army Regulations, pars. 2 and 3.)

Necessary Rule Of Army Life

The person whom you obey may be an officer, a noncommissioned officer, or even another private who has been given authority to command you. Whether you like him or not "you must respect his position and authority, and reflect honor and credit on yourself and your profession by yielding to all superiors that complete and unhesitating obedience which is the pleasure as well as the duty of every true soldier." (Manual of Noncommissioned Officers and Privates, p. 2.)

Remember also that there are certain restrictions upon the relations of officers and men which are a necessary part of Army discipline. An officer, even though in private life he may be your warm friend and associate, is expected not to mingle with you or other men in the ranks on terms of familiarity. This is a rule that is often far from agreeable to the officer; but he has no more power to change it than you have. The reason is clear. An officer can not mingle with the men under him on familiar terms without becoming better acquainted and more friendly with some than with others. He immediately lays himself open to the suspicion of favoritism—a suspicion which tends strongly to undermine respect and authority.

Argument has no place in the Army. Even favorable comment on the conduct or orders of superior officers is entirely out of place. The duty of officers and men alike is to obey promptly. However, intelligent suggestions properly made are always welcome.

The discipline of the Army is just and impersonal. You will be treated with fairness. Your rights will be respected. On your part you must respect the rights and authority conferred upon others.

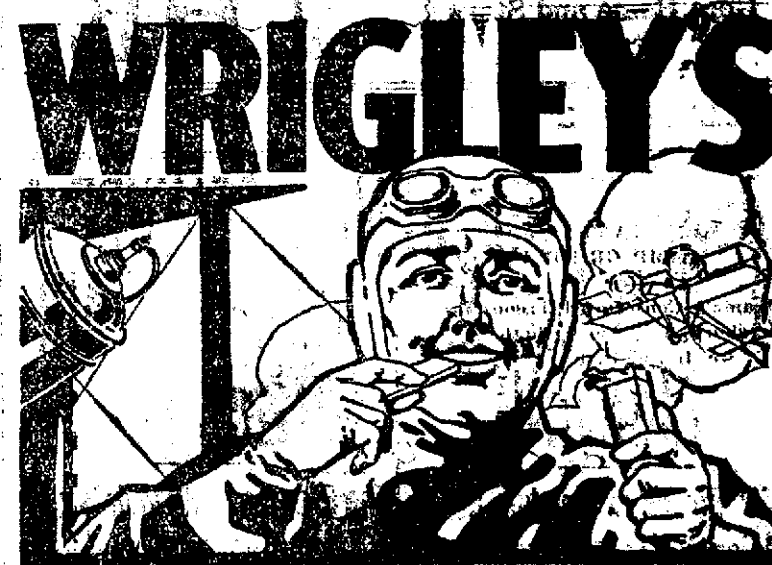

As you advance in the service, you will be required to exact strict obedience from others. If you become a commissioned officer it will be your duty to maintain such relations with the men under you that you can always treat them with absolute and impersonal justice.

Saluting The Colors

The American flag carried by a regiment is known as the "colors." It is the symbol of the Nation and is treated always with the deepest respect. Another flag is carried which is the symbol of the regiment and is known as the "regimental colors." It is protected with a devotion second only to that felt for the national flag itself.

Thousands of brave men in previous wars have given up their lives to save the colors of their country and their regiment from the enemy's hands. As war is now conducted, it is no longer practicable, as a rule, to carry them into battle and fight under their folds. But they remain the chief visible signs of the objects for which every soldier is willing to sacrifice himself. It is no wonder that the colors are prized and guarded with devoted care.

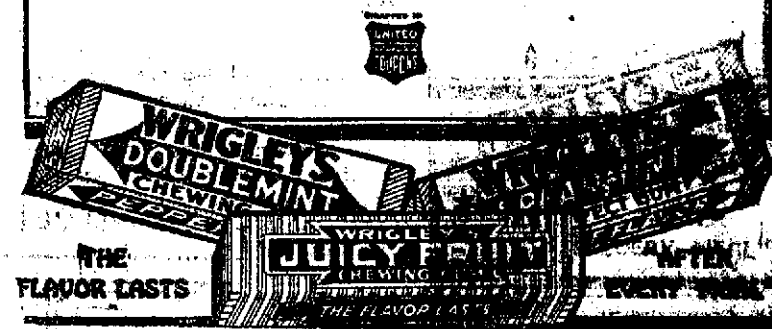

Ordinarily the colors when not in use are kept in the office of the colonel or in front of his tent. During the day when the weather permits they

Airmen in the great war are using WRIGLEYS regularly.

It steadies stomach and nerves. It is pleasantly lasting in taste. Teeth set firmly in WRIGLEYS make sure of achievement.

Our land and water forces are strong for it. And the home-guard finds refreshment and benefit in this economical, long-lasting aid to teeth, breath, appetite, digestion.

DRAFTED MEN START CAMP GRIND TODAY

Pennsylvania's Conscripted Troops in Petersburg, Va., Await Bugle for Initial Drill

Petersburg, Va., Sept. 9.—Men of the national army spent their first Sunday in accommodations today and if soldiers all over the country occupied their time as did the Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia troops at Camp Lee, then their mothers, sisters, brothers and relatives may expect to receive a letter tomorrow from their soldier boy. They were a little homesick. Some wrote one letter and many wrote several.

Today is the last day of real rest that the national army men will enjoy for tomorrow work of training them will begin in earnest. They will roll out of their cots tomorrow at 6 o'clock and when the sun goes down they will have done a good day's work. The Pennsylvania and West Virginia troops will be drilled tomorrow for the first time. The Virginia troops were given a preliminary drill yesterday, but General Cronkite allowed the West Virginia and Pennsylvania troops to rest after completing their longer journey.

Many of the drafted men attended services in the Petersburg churches, while others explored the miles of buildings, which evidently were just as interesting to them as they are to visitors of the camp, for they had not had time to look around much since their arrival.

The physical examination of the men completed yesterday and notifications will probably be sent out to exemption boards throughout the three states tomorrow regarding the number of men rejected. This notification will be accompanied by a request to forward the necessary number of drafted men to take their places. The number of rejections is running extremely light and many of the exemption districts will not be called on for any more men, the entire quotas in many instances having passed the physical examination.

The drafted men expressed their surprise today at the progress that has been made in construction of the barracks with well equipped dormitories and well-provisioned mess halls. New bedclothing and cots were to each of the men.

One of the most striking features of the camp life as developed in the two or three days since the men have arrived here is the strong sense of democracy that prevails among them. One Pennsylvania "rookie" smiled today while talking to a Public Ledger correspondent and pointed at a rookie who was busy with a broom cleaning away dirt in front of company barracks.

"That fellow is the son of a Pittsburgh millionaire," he declared, "but he is getting the same treatment that I am receiving and I like the idea immensely. I believe that the spirit of democracy existing in training camps today will be beneficial to the men when they return to private life."

The patriotic league, an organization formed by the young women of the city under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. is now forming clubs of small groups of young women to help in making camp life as much like home as possible.

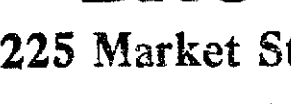

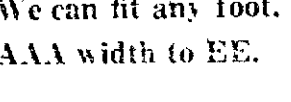

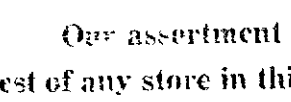

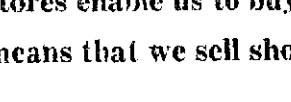

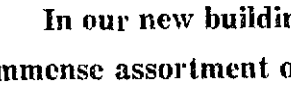

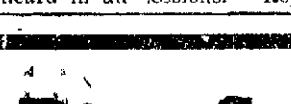

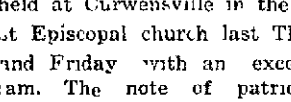

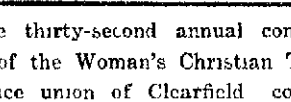

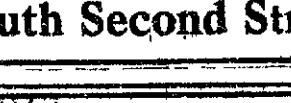

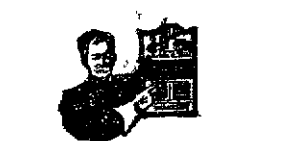

SWEDISH AID TO BERLIN CALLED CAUSE FOR WAR

London, Sept. 9.—A barrister who specializes in international relations gave me a written memorandum on the legal aspect of the Swedish-American incident this evening. He declares that Sweden's action, unless she immediately repudiates the actions and dismisses all the ministers responsible, is undoubtedly an act of war. His opinion follows:

Secretary Lansing's statement brings the relations between the Allies and Sweden to a final crisis. These telegrams conveyed information about the sailing of ships with specific instructions for their destruction by submarines. The law on the subject is perfectly clear. The Swedish Foreign office has deliberately and directly aided the German government and German military forces in prosecution of the war.

Unless the Swedish government instantly repudiates the actions of its foreign office and dismisses the Minister or Ministers responsible and also dismisses the responsible persons in the Swedish legation in Buenos Aires, this intervention is an act of war. Doctor Lawrence in his "Principles of International Law" lays down the rule: "Neutral Powers are under an obligation to prevent the use of any part of their territory as an information station by any belligerent."

CURWENSVILLE

The thirty-second annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Clearfield county was held at Curwensville in the Methodist Episcopal church last Thursday and Friday with an excellent program. The note of patriotism was heard in all sessions. Reports made by the 25 unions of the county showed a very good year's work done in all departments. The address of welcome was given in choice words by Pastor J. Max Lantz for the churches and for the local union in very fitting words by Mrs. A. McNaul. Response was made graciously by Mrs. E. Widgows. The Gold Medal contest held afforded a rare treat in eloquence resulting in a close decision for Raymond Withey of Osceola Mills. Attaining their usual high standard, the local union presented a very effective temperance playette. Excellent recitations were given by Lodema Edmiston and Rachel Pratt. The retiring officers were remembered with bouquets of lovely chrysanthemums and were also re-elected with the simple exception of the vice president who was replaced by Mrs. A. McNaul of Curwensville. "Beautiful Hour of Noon" composed by Mrs. S. Canfield Wilson, was rendered as an excellent vocal duet by Mrs. G. B. Clark and Carrie B. Smith. Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, of Tennessee, national organizer and lecturer, was to have given an address at the closing session and this was eagerly anticipated because of her known ability therefore great was the disappointment and sorrow that her husband's illness prevented her attendance, therefore the session planned as final was omitted.

According to custom ample hospitality was furnished all attending the convention, for ours is a hospitable town visitors, always claim. A noteworthy resolution adopted by the convention was one promising cooperation with the dry federation of our county. The next convention will be held at Clearfield.

FIREMEN CONDEMN METHODS

Clearfield Fire Department at regular meeting September 7th revolt at methods used to defeat Walter Welch for district attorney and pass the following resolution:

Preamble and Resolutions
Whereas, our brother fireman and long-time co-worker, Walter Welch, is asking the voters of his party and the electorate generally of Clearfield county to re-elect him to the office of District Attorney, we the members of the Clearfield Fire department, feel it meet and just that we place ourselves and our organization on record as enthusiastically as possible in that behalf. Therefore be it, Resolved, That Clearfield Fire Department pledge the loyal unwavering and enthusiastic support of its members to Walter Welch in his campaign for renomination and reelection to the office of district attorney of Clearfield county.

Resolved, That our allegiance is not only pledged and given to Walter Welch because he has been a faithful, energetic, generous member of our organization but for the further reason that he has been a faithful, honest competent public servant, filling the laborious office of district attorney with honor and credit to the people and himself and in the most economical manner possible, in these days of unusual conditions, in the body politic.

Resolved, That a Committee of this department be appointed by proper authority to take charge of our interest in behalf of Brother Walter Welch and that said committee at once get busy and do all in their power to achieve his nomination and continue their labors until the night of election in November.

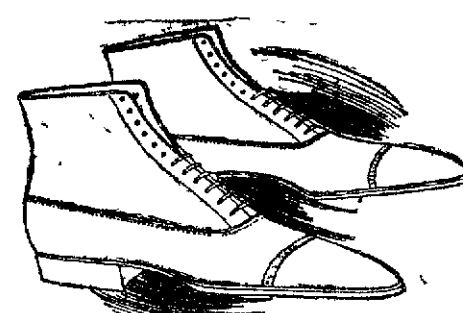

Resolved, That we place the seal of our condemnation upon the underhand efforts now being made to defeat Brother Welch and predict that they cannot but react upon the heads of those who lend themselves to such despicable practices. Walter Welch is too well known and too highly appreciated as citizen, patriot, fireman and public official to be made the victim of those who would punish him because of their hatred for other people. Contrasting his record as a man with the few who are so busy trying to tear him down leave little to be said. When his country called during the Spanish-American war he was the first man in his township—Woodward—to enlist. His services were of the most honorable character and his superior officer always so declared. In the present critical moment in the country's history he has been no less gallant and we protest against a man being punished because he places his country's cause above his personal ambitions and his possible material advantage.

COLLEGE NIGHT POPULAR EVENT AT TRINITY

Many of Our Best Colleges Are Represented by Graduates and Those at Present Attending

SHORT TALKS WERE ENJOYED

A large congregation turned out for the College night service in the Trinity Methodist church last evening. The Rev. W. W. Hartman, pastor, presiding was assisted in the opening service by Rev. E. V. Brown and Rev. J. P. McCurdy, both Dickinson college men. The first address by Miss Carrie C. Powell on "The Opportunities of a College Course for Girls" was a fine presentation of the opportunities for work, for play, and for friendship which college life affords.

The second speaker John L. Felton told of the "Moral Value of College Athletics" showing by the relation of concrete cases that the fellow who would come to the front in manly sports in college must live a clean life physically. Courage and manliness are developed in athletic games and it was generally observed that the man who was a winner on the athletic field was also able to do high grade work in the class room.

The music was a notable feature of the service. The chorus choir of eighteen voices sang "Hail Gladdening Light." The contralto solo by Carolyn Hartman and the violin solo by Horace Flegal were both very much enjoyed. The Sunday school orchestra of eleven instruments played two splendid selections.

The double male quartette sang well, composed of the following members: Robert Kennard, Albert Kennard, Emory Hartman, Wayne Powell, Harold Robinson, Lee Diehl, Kenneth Thorn and Richard Kennard. Miss Martha Humes leader of the choir and organist, is to be congratulated on the splendid program of music arranged for yesterday's services.

The soprano solo by Miss Ethel Boyce at the morning service and the anthem with solo part taken by Miss Anderson, being of the same high order as the evening music.

The following is the list of Trinity young people who are going away to school this year:

Lillian Moore, Maryland College for Women.

Katherine Quiggle, Indiana Normal, Ethel Toot, Williamsport Business College.

Helen A. Walker, Drexel Institute, Elizabeth Zerfoes, Randolph Macon Woman's College.

Announcing Beginning Tomorrow Our First Display of Fall Suits for Women of Discrimination

Women who like to dress well—and her name is legion—will be vitally interested in the first showing at A. W. Leonardson Co.'s tomorrow, of suits for Fall wear.

Every style sanctioned by the Centers of Fashion is included in this collection, and you must surely arrange to visit the store tomorrow if only to inspect the new arrivals in Suit-land.

Dame Fashion has decreed that suits for Fall shall include both the tailored as well as the more dressy styles.

In the former group, coats will be chiefly long, extending to about the knee.

In some the plait is introduced, and a few show low side drapery.

A. W. LEONARDSON CO.

YOU will find in our store a hat that will harmonize with and add distinction to your Fall suit.

Up Hill and Down Dale

APPROACH it on a dead run, or start up from a standstill. Up, up you go with the crest in sight and that inward consciousness of abundant power under the hood. For the tank is filled with Atlantic Gasoline—and Atlantic was never known to fall down on its job.

Over the brow and down the other side, dropping into the stride of the burro, if you wish. The motor is purring softly now as you lift your foot slightly from the accelerator.

Another grade. You press down. The soft purr changes to a deep growl and you know you are going to make it on high. For Atlantic Gas is still on the job. Up hill and down dale—all is pleasant going when you feed Atlantic Gasoline.

Put in a shot of Atlantic next time and watch the difference—in both power and purse. Beware of mongrel fuels.

Convention of the Junior Order Uni-
here tomorrow.

The first Council of the Junior Or-
ed in Philadelphia, Pa., May 17, 1853,
in the old Concord Schoolhouse. Its
tecting American mechanics from for-
that time, admitted to membership.

Council of the Junior Order United
and wider purpose.

in all walks of life.

and principles of the J. O. U. A. M.
Among the officers who have arrived are State Treasurer Chas. Kauf-
mann of Philadelphia and A. P. S.
State Councilor S. G. Scott of Tough-

State Council Secretary Chas. H.
Dunelm Hall Room tomorrow morning at 9:30 to which the public is cordially invited.

Indiana to attend the Normal there.

The Progress Will Maintain Free
Information and News Bureau

THIS SERVICE IS FOR YOU

tablishment of a free Information Bu-
Exhibition building of the County
you to deliver an important message,
gress Information Bureau at the fair grounds on the H. & C. telephone and
the Fair can be used in like manner.
service.

In addition to the service afore-
day. All the great national and in-
gress office.

Rev. John P. McCurdy who is so well
ed.

getting themselves into a peck of trou-
resented themselves to be John C.
appeared in a few minutes and said
more of it until Sunday morning when
Mr. Forsyth appeared and asked for
search for the car and the joy riders.
Orcutt & Buchanan garage received a telephone message to come to Morrisdale Mines and tow a damaged au-

The Auto Supply people and Mr.
rounded up.

Deputy Sheriff John S. Chaplin,
to get home from the hospital yester-
torily.

Indiana to attend the Normal there.

five and ten cent store.

the thief in the act.

few odds and ends into his pocket.
The fellow was apprehended before he could get away and was taken
doors behind him. He then walked
cape.

and they tussled into the hall way be-
son succeeded in acquainting Chief
got him in the jug and was let go.
The shoplifter was locked up and be-
but much wiser young man.

just grazing the face of a lady pass-
fatal accident.

To The County Fair

Bring your curios to the County Fair. What is interesting to you
teresting connection with the past.
said before in these columns, the Fair

ship automobile case developed Sat-
man be opened.

desire to defraud the Lee Garage Co.,
and did not know them in the matter;
property and will be paid.

BY AN AUTOMOBILE;

Harvey Vankemeyer, aged twelve
instantly killed yesterday when he
that had stopped along the highway.
other machine and was struck fairly.
chine ran over his chest, crushing it.
possible and rendered all aid possible,
but the boy only lived a few minutes.
accident and took the proper steps;
have a thorough investigation made.

"Chick" Abhta had a personal encounter with a hunky automobile Sat-
fractured right wrist.

members of this company and the citi-
Hose company have responded and
young men are:

Worrell Jones, regular army.
Robert McClellan, regular army.
Harvey Shearer, regular army.
Foster Kerr, regular army.
Charles Houser, regular army.
Wilbur Kerr, Boal Machine Gun Co.
Harry Flaharty, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Hayes Wilson, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Bruce Jacobs, Boal Machine Gun Co.
Willard Barratt, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Milton Rauch, Boal Machine Gun
Co.
Lloyd Wisner, Boal Machine Gun
Co.

The members of the Machine Gun
to give the boys a fitting final send-off
just before they embarked by automobile for Boalsburg.

ensure everybody's attendance.

hand waiting to say the final au revoir.

everything in readiness and the as-
banquet. Rev. B. J. Hummel of the
asked the Divine blessing.

soldier boy present with a small silk
flag on behalf of the Elk Hose com-
occasion.

The Machine Gun company sextette,
a musical organization of real merit,
led by Corporal Hayes Wilson then
favored the assemblage with a num-
show the temper of the crowd, regardless of its make up, it is only nec-
which aroused the greatest enthusiasm was the "History of the Machine Gun Company," a parody on
"The Old Gray Mare," the last line

speech.

ing of America by the assemblage, after which fifteen minutes were spent
truck with their mothers, sisters and

Chemists' Convention
To Discuss War Needs

This Profession Will Have Large Part

theories and formulas for the preservation of by-products and for the making of munitions as well as latest developments in medicinal remedies, disinfectants, dyes and dyestuffs are to
be discussed by the American Chemi-
vention which began in this city today.

Although many chemists of the
participate in the convention proceedings. It is the first large gather-
and since the present great development of the chemical business in the United States.

The war has put the chemical in-
chemical manufacture here began
when German importations ceased.
Not only were stocks quickly depleted,
many months.

whose production, including dyes, is
many as 40,000 colors, shades, tints,
products to fewer than 200.

made the asphyxiating gases, and
cussions will deal with the advance of
of the business there are many important problems that are still in the solv-
est of the chemists of the country centered upon discussions which will be
held during the three days' sessions,
the results of the meeting for the fur-
facture.

will meet with Mrs. John W. Wrigley
Thursday evening, Sept. 13th, at seven thirty. A large attendance is desired.
Come and bring your husband.
S-10-4t.

The A. H. Woodward Bible Class of
M. E. Sunday School will hold a picnic
lunch at Driving Park, Thurs., Sept.
13th. Members, and families invited.

street was begun.

When the borough line was reached a stop was made and following the
singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" the boys hustled into their automobiles and were away for Boals-
ours, and if the fortunes of war make it possible for them to get to Germany our money is down on them
of his life on earth, and when he gets
thing at that.

In addition to the Elk Hose company members in the Machine Gun
company, there were present also
and Dorsey Polanzhorn, of Woodland,
also of the Machine Gun company,
and Worrell Jones and Victor Jones,
who are home from Fort Slocum on a furlough.

It was an occasion long to be remembered and the Elk Hose company
has ever reason to feel proud of the
Uncle Sam's call.

BETWEEN U. S.

Believe United States Safe
Unless Sweden's Explanation

By Carl D. Groat
Washington, Sept. 10.—The United
the "spurious versant" secret message
from the minister at Buenos Ayres to Stockholm.

Sweden's explanation may alter
America's position.
It was officially declared today that
that it cannot well break with Swe-
den. The State Department said that
had full knowledge of the transmitt-
that it "was possible" for Sweden
to be the medium through which Ger-

sort of explanation from Sweden
the Sweden foreign office
house cleaning in Sweden is
although no official suggestion
made.

held to be the greatest sufferers from
between the two diplomats. The Britain was injured by the neutral
messages were sent in German or
sages in German code. This code is known to the State Department inas-
of the code to the United States government. The United States will not
off her supplies. Negotiations with

It is said that Kerensky, who has sadly admitted that he may not live to see the accomplishment of his desires, has submitted some time since, to an operation for the removal of a supposedly necessary organ; and that he now exists with only one kidney. In view of the energy and wisdom which he displays we are prompted to wonder whether it might not be a good thing to put some of our Cabinet officers under the knife similarly.

KEEP AT IT

We are informed by the President of the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce that the Committee in charge of the demonstration Friday evening in honor of departing soldiers intends to see that every contingent of conscripted men leaving here are accorded the same treatment. It is indeed a laudable undertaking and while there will be a great deal of work and inconvenience for those on whom the work will fall it is no more than right that every man leaving here from now on shall go with the best wishes and heartiest cheers of our populace. Next time there is a much larger pilgrimage to the camps. The regiments now call for the next entrainment to be forty per cent of our total quota or about eighty-six men. Let get ready to give these fellows the greatest demonstration ever witnessed in Clearfield.

Ambassador Gerard's recital of his experiences in Mexico continues to expose the inexplicable folly of the Democratic administration in the face of the plainest intimations of Germany's purpose to harass the United States. In one of his most recent chapters, Mr. Gerard tells how, in the early stages of the Mexican imbroglio, he was informed by "a man high in the German Foreign Office" that the German government had proposed to England that the two powers should intervene by force in Mexico, to the destruction of the Monroe Doctrine; this to be followed by the forceful colonization of Central and South America by European nations.

As a diligent representative of his country at a foreign post, Mr. Gerard necessarily reported this incident to the State Department—but it is only now, after three or four years, that the people of the United States are made acquainted with the fact. The administration took no notice of the threat which this proposal carried against a cherished article of our national faith; and the President continued to submit to repeated insult from all factions in Mexico. No effort was made to put ourselves in a position of military preparedness, either to enforce our grievances against the Mexicans or to protect ourselves against the graver dangers of a European movement to overthrow our supremacy in this continent. We were "kept out of war" until, when war came, as was inevitable, we found ourselves as unready as we were unrealizing.

The much vaunted harmony among Democrats is becoming the laughing stock of the voters of Clearfield county today. The opposing candidates for the office of District Attorney are indulging in personalities, giving the lie to each other and both are busy as nailers attempting to discredit the utterances of each other. And it has a whole week to go yet! It will be some pretty mess before next Wednesday evening rolls around and the split in the Democratic party will look like the Grand Canon of Colorado. The present District Attorney should have known better than to leave his post of duty here, knowing as he did, what stories the opposition would circulate. It was poor politics to go and worse to return.

Goldline may have an invigorating effect but we do not see how it can surpass a Cappy Ricks story from the pen of Peter B. Kyne and printed in the Saturday Evening Post. Laugh and grow fat.

Yes, there is a good man out for Sheriff. Capable, honest and one who would grace the office. Yes, certainly he is on the Republican ticket. You know who he is. If you don't know, size them all up and find out which it is.

As though their suffering was not enough, some of our news writers seem to think that their mission is to ethically remind mothers and wives of the vacant chair and military funerals. Have they no consideration for sensitive feelings or do they belong to that class which seeks to cheer the invalid by enlarging on his or her infirmity accompanied by the shedding of hypocritical tears?

Ft. Sam Houston
Dear Mother and Father:

I just received part of my mail last night about 9 o'clock. We just came back from a town about two hundred and 10 miles from here. We were stalled out of bed Friday morning at 15 minutes after 3 and told to get our heavy packs made up as soon as we could. We all got up growling because we had to get up early. When we were ready, to our surprise they gave each of us 3 belts full of ammunition, which was two hundred and fifty rounds apiece.

We took our rifles and put on our packs and they took us across to the railroad and packed the whole battalion of about 600 men on one train. There was a big engine and 15 cars without the baggage car and engine. We had the right of way and went straight through in a couple of hours.

As soon as we reached there we threw our packs off and loaded our rifles and started out of town. We soon came to the 24th infantry camp. They are all negroes. We were lined up along the road running along the camp and told not to shoot until told but when given the order, to shoot every negro we saw and shoot right through the tent and chase them out.

The commander of the southern department, Waltz, went into camp and talked to them while, then the negroes came back into the tents and took all their rifles and ammunition out and put them in a pile and stood aside until we went in and took them away.

There were about 50 negroes killed and a number wounded and some ran away. We rounded up half of the battalion and took them down to Columbus, New Mexico where they will be taken care of.

They had ammunition and rifles hid all around. They had dug ditches to keep the rain out and had them packed in there, about a car load of them. All the rifles were loaded fresh and the belts were full. There was 6 or 7 hundred of those colored people all together. They looked surprised when we stepped in on them.

We use Springfield rifles, the best kind. They have slings on. A man can shoot wherever he aims when he uses a sling.

School for Soldiers Lesson No. 25

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and directions. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States army to which this course is merely introductory.

LESSON 25. DISCIPLINE AND RESPECT FOR THE COLORS

Discipline is not merely an obligation imposed upon you; it is a protection to you. Your superiors, from the commanding general down, are just as much bound to respect the regulations of the Army as you are; this includes respect for the rights of every soldier.

The person whom you obey may be an officer, a noncommissioned officer, or even another private who has been given authority to command you. Whether you like him or not "you must respect his position and authority, and reflect honor and credit on yourself and your profession by yielding to all superiors that complete and unhesitating obedience which is the pleasure as well as the duty of every true soldier." (Manual of Noncommissioned Officers and Privates, p. 2.)

Remember also that there are certain restrictions upon the relations of officers and men which are a necessary part of Army discipline. An officer, even though in private life he may be your warm friend and associate, is expected not to mingle with you or other men in the ranks on terms of familiarity. This is a rule that is often far from agreeable to the officer; but he has no more power to change it than you have. The reason is clear. An officer can not mingle with the men under him on familiar terms without becoming better acquainted and more friendly with some than with others. He immediately lays himself open to the suspicion of favoritism—a suspicion which tends strongly to undermine respect and authority.

Argument has no place in the Army. Even favorable comment on the conduct or orders of superior officers is entirely out of place. The duty of officers and men alike is to obey promptly. However, intelligent suggestions properly made are always welcome.

The discipline of the Army is just and impersonal. You will be treated with fairness. Your rights will be respected. On your part you must respect the rights and authority conferred upon others.

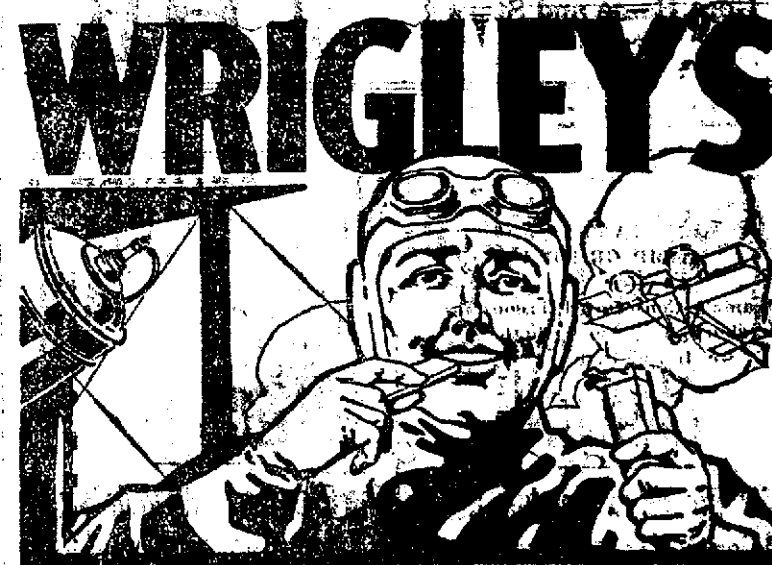

As you advance in the service, you will be required to exact strict obedience from others. If you become a commissioned officer it will be your duty to maintain such relations with the men under you that you can always treat them with absolute and impersonal justice.

The American flag carried by a regiment is known as the "colors." It is the symbol of the Nation and is treated always with the deepest respect. Another flag is carried which is the symbol of the regiment and is known as the "regimental colors." It is protected with a devotion second only to that felt for the national flag itself.

Thousands of brave men in previous wars have given up their lives to save the colors of their country and their regiment from the enemy's hands. As war is now conducted, it is no longer practicable, as a rule, to carry them into battle and fight under their folds. But they remain the chief visible signs of the objects for which every soldier is willing to sacrifice himself. It is no wonder that the colors are prized and guarded with devoted care.

Petersburg, Va., Sept. 9.—Men of the national army spent their first Sunday in accommodations today and if soldiers all over the country occupied their time as did the Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia troops at Camp Lee, then their mothers, sisters, brothers and relatives may expect to receive a letter tomorrow from their soldier boy. They were a little homesick. Some wrote one letter and many wrote several.

Today is the last day of real rest that the national army men will enjoy for tomorrow work of training them will begin in earnest. They will roll out of their cots tomorrow at 6 o'clock and when the sun goes down they will have done a good day's work. The Pennsylvania and West Virginia troops will be drilled tomorrow for the first time. The Virginia troops were given a preliminary drill yesterday, but General Cronkite allowed the West Virginia and Pennsylvania troops to rest after completing their longer journey.

Many of the drafted men attended services in the Petersburg churches, while others explored the miles of buildings, which evidently were just as interesting to them as they are to visitors of the camp, for they had not had time to look around much since their arrival.

The physical examination of the men completed yesterday and notifications will probably be sent out to exemption boards throughout the three states tomorrow regarding the number of men rejected. This notification will be accompanied by a request to forward the necessary number of drafted men to take their places. The number of rejections is running extremely light and many of the exemption districts will not be called on for any more men, the entire quotas in many instances having passed the physical examination.

The drafted men expressed their surprise today at the progress that has been made in construction of the barracks with well equipped dormitories and well-provisioned mess halls. New bedclothing and cots were to each of the men.

One of the most striking features of the camp life as developed in the two or three days since the men have arrived here is the strong sense of democracy that prevails among them. One Pennsylvania "rookie" smiled today while talking to a Public Ledger correspondent and pointed at a rookie who was busy with a broom cleaning away dirt in front of company barracks.

"That fellow is the son of a Pittsburgh millionaire," he declared, "but he is getting the same treatment that I am receiving and I like the idea immensely. I believe that the spirit of democracy existing in training camps today will be beneficial to the men when they return to private life."

The patriotic league, an organization formed by the young women of the city under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. is now forming clubs of small groups of young women to help in making camp life as much like home as possible.

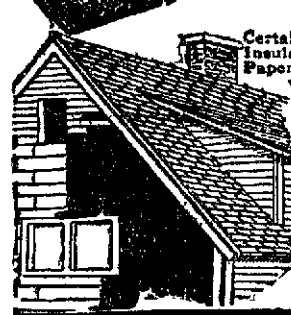

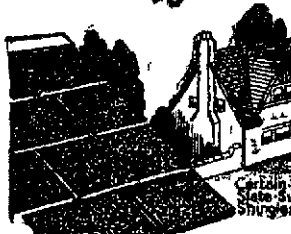

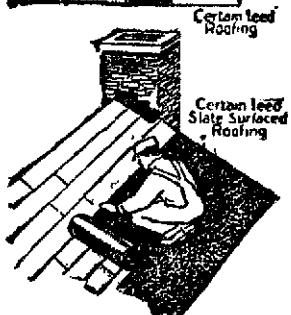

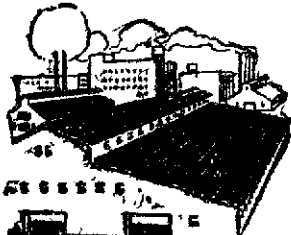

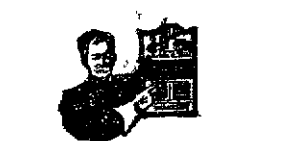

SWEDISH AID TO BERLIN CALLED CAUSE FOR WAR

London, Sept. 9.—A barrister who specializes in international relations gave me a written memorandum on the legal aspect of the Swedish-American incident this evening. He declares that Sweden's action, unless she immediately repudiates the actions and dismisses all the ministers responsible, is undoubtedly an act of war. His opinion follows:

Secretary Lansing's statement brings the relations between the Allies and Sweden to a final crisis. These telegrams conveyed information about the sailing of ships with specific instructions for their destruction by submarines. The law on the subject is perfectly clear. The Swedish Foreign office has deliberately and directly aided the German government and German military forces in prosecution of the war.

Unless the Swedish government instantly repudiates the actions of its foreign office and dismisses the Minister or Ministers responsible and also dismisses the responsible persons in the Swedish legation in Buenos Aires, this intervention is an act of war. Doctor Lawrence in his "Principles of International Law" lays down the rule: "Neutral Powers are under an obligation to prevent the use of any part of their territory as an information station by any belligerent."

CURWENSVILLE

The thirty-second annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Clearfield county was held at Curwensville in the Methodist Episcopal church last Thursday and Friday with an excellent program. The note of patriotism was heard in all sessions. Reports made by the 25 unions of the county showed a very good year's work done in all departments. The address of welcome was given in choice words by Pastor J. Max Lantz for the churches and for the local union in very fitting words by Mrs. A. McNaul. Response was made graciously by Mrs. E. Widgows.

The Gold Medal contest held afforded a rare treat in eloquence resulting in a close decision for Raymond Withey of Osceola Mills. Attaining their usual high standard, the local union presented a very effective temperance playette. Excellent recitations were given by Lodema Edmiston and Rachel Pratt.

The retiring officers were remembered with bouquets of lovely chrysanthemums and were also re-elected with the simple exception of the vice president who was replaced by Mrs. A. McNaul of Curwensville. "Beautiful Hour of Noon" composed by Mrs. S. Canfield Wilson, was rendered as an excellent vocal duet by Mrs. G. B. Clark and Carrie B. Smith. Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, of Tennessee, national organizer and lecturer, was to have given an address at the closing session and this was

The Worry Habit.

In all forms of worry, the organic sense of well-being becomes disordered and life instead of being beautiful is seen through smoked glass. People worry over trifles—the weather, their dress, work, failure, pains or financial conditions. Some of these worries have a physical or temperamental basis, but most of them are simply wrong mental attitudes. They can be cured by a cheerful philosophy of life. The "sunshine societies," "don't worry clubs" and "reading clubs" all help in the re-education of men.

Clearfield Fire Department at regular meeting September 7th revolt at methods used to defeat Walter Welch for district attorney and pass the following resolution:

Preamble and Resolutions
Whereas, our brother fireman and long-time co-worker, Walter Welch, is asking the voters of his party and the electorate generally of Clearfield county to re-elect him to the office of District Attorney, we the members of the Clearfield Fire department, feel it meet and just that we place ourselves and our organization on record as enthusiastically as possible in that behalf. Therefore be it, Resolved, That Clearfield Fire Department pledge the loyal unwavering and enthusiastic support of its members to Walter Welch in his campaign for renomination and reelection to the office of district attorney of Clearfield county.

Resolved, That our allegiance is not only pledged and given to Walter Welch because he has been a faithful, energetic, generous member of our organization but for the further reason that he has been a faithful, honest competent public servant, filling the laborious office of district attorney with honor and credit to the people and himself and in the most economical manner possible, in these days of unusual conditions, in the body politic.

Resolved, That a Committee of this department be appointed by proper authority to take charge of our interest in behalf of Brother Walter Welch and that said committee at once get busy and do all in their power to achieve his nomination and continue their labors until the night of election in November.
Resolved, That we place the seal of our condemnation upon the underhand efforts now being made to defeat Brother Welch and predict that they cannot but react upon the heads of those who lend themselves to such despicable practices. Walter Welch is too well known and too highly appreciated as citizen, patriot, fireman and public official to be made the victim of those who would punish him because of their hatred for other people. Contrasting his record as a man with the few who are so busy trying to tear him down leave little to be said. When his country called during the Spanish-American war he was the first man in his township—Woodward—to enlist. His services were of the most honorable character and his superior officer always so declared. In the present critical moment in the country's history he has been no less gallant and we protest against a man being punished because he places his country's cause above his personal ambitions and his possible material advantage.

COLLEGE NIGHT POPULAR EVENT AT TRINITY

A large congregation turned out for the College night service in the Trinity Methodist church last evening. The Rev. W. W. Hartman, pastor, presiding was assisted in the opening service by Rev. E. V. Brown and Rev. J. P. McCurdy, both Dickinson college men. The first address by Miss Carrie C. Powell on "The Opportunities of a College Course for Girls" was a fine presentation of the opportunities for work, for play, and for friendship which college life affords.

The second speaker John L. Felton told of the "Moral Value of College Athletics" showing by the relation of concrete cases that the fellow who would come to the front in many sports in college must live a clean life physically. Courage and manliness are developed in athletic games and it was generally observed that the man who was a winner on the athletic field was also able to do high grade work in the class room.

The music was a notable feature of the service. The chorus choir of eighteen voices sang "Hail Gladdening Light." The contralto solo by Carolyn Hartman and the violin solo by Horace Flegal were both very much enjoyed. The Sunday school orchestra of eleven instruments played two splendid selections.

The double male quartette sang well, composed of the following members: Robert Kennard, Albert Kennard, Emory Hartman, Wayne Powell, Harold Robinson, Lee Diehl, Kenneth Thorn and Richard Kennard. Miss Martha Humes leader of the choir and organist, is to be congratulated on the splendid program of music arranged for yesterday's services. The soprano solo by Miss Ethel Boyce at the morning service and the anthem with solo part taken by Miss Anderson, being of the same high order as the evening music.

Katherine Quiggle, Indiana Normal, Ethel Toot, Williamsport Business College, Helen A. Walker, Drexel Institute, Elizabeth Zerfoes, Randolph Macon Woman's College.

Carl A. Anderson, Dickinson College, Walter J. Flegal, Colorado College, W. Emory Hartman, Ohio Wesleyan University.

Lee G. Hills, Penn State College, Albert R. Kennard, Penn State College, Walter B. Kennard, Penn State College.

A. Bishop Shaw, Dickinson College, Thomas H. Wallace, Lafayette College, Clarence C. Watson, Penn State College.

Women who like to dress well—and her name is legion—will be vitally interested in the first showing at A. W. Leonardson Co.'s tomorrow, of suits for Fall wear.

Every style sanctioned by the Centers of Fashion is included in this collection, and you must surely arrange to visit the store tomorrow if only to inspect the new arrivals in Suit-land.

Prices range from $17.50 to $67.50.

YOU will find in our store a hat that will harmonize with and add distinction to your Fall suit.

APPROACH it on a dead run, or start up from a standstill. Up, up you go with the crest in sight and that inward consciousness of abundant power under the hood. For the tank is filled with Atlantic Gasoline—and Atlantic was never known to fall down on its job.

Another grade. You press down. The soft purr changes to a deep growl and you know you are going to make it on high. For Atlantic Gas is still on the job. Up hill and down dale—all is pleasant going when you feed Atlantic Gasoline.

Put in a shot of Atlantic next time and watch the difference—in both power and purse. Beware of mongrel fuels.
